New estimates based on 1977 census of retail sales

This 1981 edition of the EDITOR & PUBLISHER MARKET GUIDE contains complete retail sales data from the 1977 Census of Retail Sales including state, county and city figures for all states. These data are the new benchmarks for the 1980 and 1981 retail sales estimates calculated for E&P by Marketing Economics Institute.

This is the first year since the 1972 Census that the number of retail stores has been up-dated. The next U.S. Census of Retail Sales will be made in 1982. Results of the U.S. Census of Population for 1980 are not available at the time of publication of this Market Guide. E&P estimates for population, households and personal income are based on up-dated estimates to January 1, 1980 and on proven reliable projection curves for the two-year period up to January 1, 1982.

E&P's projections for 1981 anticipate retail sales increases for General Merchandise (+10.5%), Food (+6.2%), Apparel (+7.6%), Furniture (+4.0%), Eat/Drink (+2.6%), and Drugs (+5.6%). (See Retail Sales Summary, page XXX.) Oil price increases will be a major factor in the 40% jump estimated for Gasoline sales in 1981. Building Materials sales estimates indicate little change for 1981 vs. 1980. Automotive 1981 sales estimates indicate a decrease of more than 10% from 1980.

This 58th edition of the Market Guide presents tables of data estimating population, households, retail sales and personal income for all U.S. counties and every daily newspaper market in the U.S. and Canada.

These estimates are critical to marketing executives because of current inflationary pressures. Population figures when charted reveal the flow from east to west and to the sun belt areas.

The individual and exclusive 14-point market surveys for all U.S.A. and Canadian markets in which a daily newspaper is published—the heart of the Market Guide—provide users with unduplicated information. Our staff has used a wide variety of sources in compiling the surveys, and has up-dated data on retailing including shopping centers, department and chain stores, discount stores, etc.

The editors of the Market Guide recommend its contents for use in preparing sales, marketing and advertising strategy, the selection of sites for retail outlets, shopping centers, industrial plants, warehouses, franchise units, etc.

We welcome comments from users of this 1981 edition and suggestions for future editions.

How to use the MARKET GUIDE

The columns of facts and figures that make up the more than 1,600 surveys in this MARKET GUIDE have been arranged in alphabetical order, by state (or province in Canada), and by city within each state and province.

Within each state or province listings appear the special E&P tables of statistics covering population, disposable income, and retail outlay in every standard metropolitan statistical area (SMSA), county, and community supporting a daily newspaper. Maps for each state indicate the location of important cities, with special emphasis on those with daily papers.

The sample survey on (page III) shows how the information in each survey is laid out in a generally standard order. In the index, a simple light-face number by an entry indicates the paragraph in any survey under which such information is to be found: Population . . . 3; Gas meters . . . 8; Retail outlets . . . 13.

A roman or arabic number preceded by a letter P indicates the page in the book where information other than that in the surveys is to be found: Definitions and notes . . . P. II; National newspaper representatives . . . P. 483. Information in tables for each state is noted as such.

The E&P market ranking tables appear on the Roman numbered pages at the front of the book. These tables list current population, estimates, disposable personal income, retail sales, food sales, and personal income per household for all SMSAs, all counties and larger cities, in order of size.

In this section appear also summaries of population income, households and farm products values for the entire United States, and the number of stores and estimates of retail sales.

DEFINITIONS AND NOTES

ABC—Adjacent to certain figures on population and newspapers in the surveys in this book are references to the Audit Bureau of Circulations. The ABC issues standardized statements of the circulation of publisher members, verifies the figures shown in these statements by auditors' examination and disseminates the circulation data to advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers.

Each publisher's statement and audit report issued to members covers the quantity, quality, distribution of circulation and circulation methods.

ADVERTISING & MERCHANDISING DATA—The daily newspaper is the prime source of information on local conditions in each of the newspaper market areas. The name or names of people able to supply more information about these areas appears in paragraph 14 of each "Key Market Survey."

CIRCULATION FIGURES—The March 1980 figures appear in most of the surveys. Where March 1980 figures are not available, proper notation is made. Also indicated with the figure is whether the circulation is verified by ABC (Audit Bureau of Circulations) or comes from a sworn statement by the publisher of the newspaper.

CITY ZONE (CZ)—The corporate limits of the city in which the newspaper is published, plus in some cases, the contiguous areas built up adjacent to or surrounding the city of publication. This could also include more than one city, where the areas involved are contiguous areas.

CONSUMER SPENDABLE INCOME—See "Personal disposable income" below.

EFFECTIVE BUYING INCOME—See "Personal Disposable Income" below.

ESTIMATES—Basic figures are always U.S. Government figures (U.S. Census) or, in Canada, the latest available Census figures from Statistics Canada. Any other figures are either identified as to source or considered "local estimates."

FARM DATA—County data: The figures used in these tables for the counties are the latest released by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The most recent agriculture census was made in 1974.

State Data: State totals of value of crops and livestock are released annually by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. State totals used in these tables are from the most recent USDA Statistical Bulletin. Footnotes at the bottom of each table show the year and source of data.

HOUSEHOLDS—Not to be confused with "families," the term used in previous Census Bureau figures. The term "household" corresponds to "private dwelling unit" as defined in he Census Bureau's current operations, which would include all persons occupying a house or an apartment together.

INCOME PER HOUSEHOLD—The total average income earned or received by each household without any direct or indirect taxes deducted.

NEIGHBORHOOD SHOPPING AREA (OR DISTRICT)—Indicates specific street locations of active retail trade.

PASSENGER AUTOS—These figures are obtained from the various state departments of motor vehicles, where available, and generally on a county basis. However, in some states no county breakdown is available.

PERSONAL INCOME—Current income received by individuals, unincorporated businesses and non-profit institutions, from all sources. It includes all that is received as wages, salaries, and commissions, including pensions, trust and welfare funds, labor, farm, non-farm, professional, rental, dividends, personal interest and transfer payments. Note that this differs from "Personal Disposable Income", in that taxes have not been deducted from these amounts.

PERSONAL DISPOSABLE INCOME—Sometimes referred to as "Effective Buying Income" or "Consumer Spendable Income", is equal to "Personal Income" after taxes. The amounts usually deducted for income, property and other taxes not deductible as business expenses, as well as other general government revenues such as fines, penalities, and so on, have been subtracted.

PRIMARY MARKET AREA—Considered to be that geographical area in which the newspaper provides primary editorial and advertising service. Area consists of contiguous census units (none larger than a county), and ABC rules require that paid circulation and ABC current estimate of households within each county or portion thereof shall be considered.

RETAIL SALES ESTIMATE TABLES—Based upon the latest available (1977) U.S. Department of Commerce Census of Retail Sales, brought up-to-date, with consideration given to conditions and developments since the Census figures were collected.

Sales and "Kinds of Retail Stores" (as well as estimates) are reported as in the Bureau of Census reports, by type of store in which the sales are made (using the Standard Industrial Classification Manual codes and descriptions all listed in this volume) rather than by the products sold. For example, many non-food items are sold in food stores.

The sum of the nine types of stores will not add up to the total of retail sales estimates for each area since there is also a miscellaneous classification of stores not included in these tables.

In some areas (cities or counties), retail sales totals and retail sales per household exceed the figures shown for total income per household. This is because of the influence or attraction an area may have on the shopping patterns or habits of those who liv adjacent to or outside it.

RETAIL TRADING ZONE (OR AREA) (RTZ)—The area beyond the City Zone whose residents regularly trade to an important degree with the retail merchants in the City Zone. In establishing the boundaries of the RTZ, consideration is given to the transportation facilities, traffic flow, traveling time and schedules by both public facilities, private cars and common carriers; as well as charge accounts, phone orders and regular delivery service from the central or City Zone to the outlying areas.

SHOPPING CENTER—The term is intended to apply to developments with a number and a variety of stores, including chains, supermarkets or banks, with extensive parking facilites, and located on or near a main highway.

STANDARD METROPOLITAN STATISTICAL AREA (SMSA)—These are listed as described by the Office of Management and Budget. A complete list of these, with a full explanation, appears near the end of this Market Guide.

STANDARD CONSOLIDATED STATISTICAL AREA (SCSA)—A standard statistical area used to facilitate the presentation and analysis of data on large concentrations of metropolitan population. A complete list of these areas, with a full explanation, appears near the end of this Market Guide.

STATISTICS CANADA—Canadian Government agency in Ottawa responsible for all official statistics covering population, retail sales, etc.

STORES—Stores are typed according to the definitions of the 1977 U.S. Census of Business (Retail Trade) which use the Standard Industrial Classification Manual codes and descriptions.

SUPERMARKET—This term involves these three conditions: annual sales volume of at least $1 million; four departments: dairy, meat, produce and groceries; and a grocery department that is entirely self-service.

RETAIL SALES ESTIMATES

The basis for kind-of-business classifications used in the Editor & Publisher Market Guide is the same as used by the U.S. Department of Commerce in the Census of Retail Trade. This follows the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual (Executive Office of the President, Office of Management and Budget, Standard Industrial Classification Manual, 1972).

The 1977 Census of Retail Sales conducted by the U.S. Department of Commerce was a gigantic task and required considerable time for evaluation and tabulation. The 1977 Census is the basis for the Retail Sales Estimates included in this 1981 edition. However, strict comparison of the data for the 1972 and 1977 censuses is limited by the following factors:

Geographic boundaries of a number of areas have changed between 1972 and 1977 censuses, because of annexation and redefinition of Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas and other boundary changes.

In 1977, the Internal Revenue Service assigned a more detailed classification code to business tax returns. As a result, data for certain kinds of business are more detailed than could be shown in 1972.

Omitted from the 1977 sales statistics are sales and other taxes collected from customers as well as carrying charges or other charges for credit. These taxes/charges reported in the 1972 census have been estimated at about $10 billion for the United States as a whole.

In the 1972 census the "legal form of organization" was based on data only for establishments with a total company employment of 250 persons or more. In 1977, this was determined on the basis of the response to the legal form of organization inquiry on the census forms.

This Miscellaneous Retail Store category is not included in the Editor & Publisher Tables of Estimated Retail Sales.

For your quick reference, we publish a complete list of the major group classifications of stores included in the Tables of Estimated Retail Sales (numbers following names are SIC codes). PT following the SIC code refers to "part"; n.e.c. refers to "not elsewhere classified."

EDITOR & PUBLISHER'S MARKET RANKINGS

This year EDITOR & PUBLISHER has once again compiled market-ranking tables to help advertising and marketing executives plan programs for the coming year.

These tables have been a feature of the E&P Market Guide since they first appeared in the 1964 edition. The rankings, based on E&P estimates for 1981, are shown for five categories: population, disposable personal income, total retail sales, food sales, and income per household.

Rankings are provided for all cities or communities in the United States in which newspapers are published on a daily basis, for all counties whether daily newspapers are published in them or not, and for all standard metropolitan statistical areas in the United States (including four in Puerto Rico), as defined by the Office of Management and Budget.

The tables are tabulated by computer and are based on the 1970 U.S. Census and the 1977 Census of Business, and our own research estimates for 1981.

Leading U.S. cities, counties and standard metropolitan statistical areas ranked according to EDITOR & PUBLISHER estimates for 1981

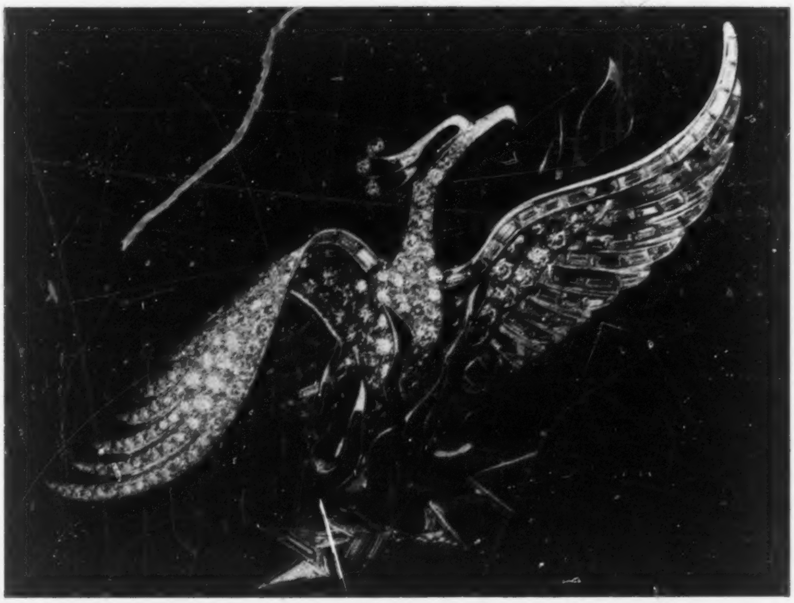
THIS RARE BIRD IS WORTH 8 BILLION DOLLARS.



AND WE CAN PUT IT IN YOUR HANDS.

Compared to other U.S. markets, Phoenix is a rare bird indeed. It's a market on the move:

In growth — we're 2nd nationally in population and personal income growth. In wealth — retail sales will top $8 billion this year. In youth — two-thirds of our 1.5 million residents are under 45. And, we have more 18-34 year olds than two-thirds of America's other metro markets.

The Arizona Republic/The Phoenix Gazette can help you catch this rare bird: 64% of all metro adults read an average issue. 80% read a Sunday and one weekday combination. 86% read The Republic/The Gazette over a 5-day period. We reach 90% of all the college educated. 90% of those in professional, managerial, or administrative positions. And 94% of all households earning $35,000 or more.

If you want to sell anything under the sun — the Sunbelt's hottest prospects are in Phoenix

America's Fastest Growing Newspaper

There are 265 newspapers in the United States which averaged 50,000 or more paid circulation in the six month periods ending March 31, 1980 and March 31, 1979.

Only four of these newspapers had increases in paid circulation of 10% or more during the past year.

Only one, the Arkansas Democrat, had an increase of more than 20%.

10-CLIMATE: Los Angeles Civic Center. Min. & Max. Temp. —Spring 52-70; Summer 60-80; Fall 56-77; Winter 48-66.

11—TAP WATER: There are several sources of water supply for the Los Angeles County Area. Los Angeles City receives water from underground wells and the Los Angeles River as well as 77% from two Department of Water and Power Aqueducts. Moderately soft 4.1 grains per gallon. Slightly alkaline, 6.2 grains per gallon. Aqueduct water varies somewhat from area to area but between 80%-90% is moderately soft, 87 mg/1 and slightly alkaline, 117 mg/1.

12—RETAILING: Los Angeles is unique in that shopping centers are spread throughout the market and each represents a major shopping center for that area. Downtown Los Angeles thus represents one of many. It extends eight blocks north and south from 1st St. to 9th St. and 7 blocks east and west from Spring St. to Figueroa. In discussing the retailing structure of Los Angeles, Orange County, which is part of the marketing area and part of the primary market or city and retail trading zone of Los Angeles metropolitan newspapers, becomes an integral part. All following figures are, therefore, for Los Angeles and Orange Counties.
Neighborhood Shopping Centers: In the Los Angeles Marketing Area there are 107 incorporated cities with their central shopping districts and community shopping centers. In addition there are 54 spacious regional centers, which include department stores, supermarkets, shops, restaurants and parking areas.
Principal Shopping Days: Dept.—Mon., Thu., Fri. and Sat. Food—Thu., Fri., Sat & Sun.
Stores Open Evenings: Dept. staggered by shopping center, many open every night. Food—every night and Sun.

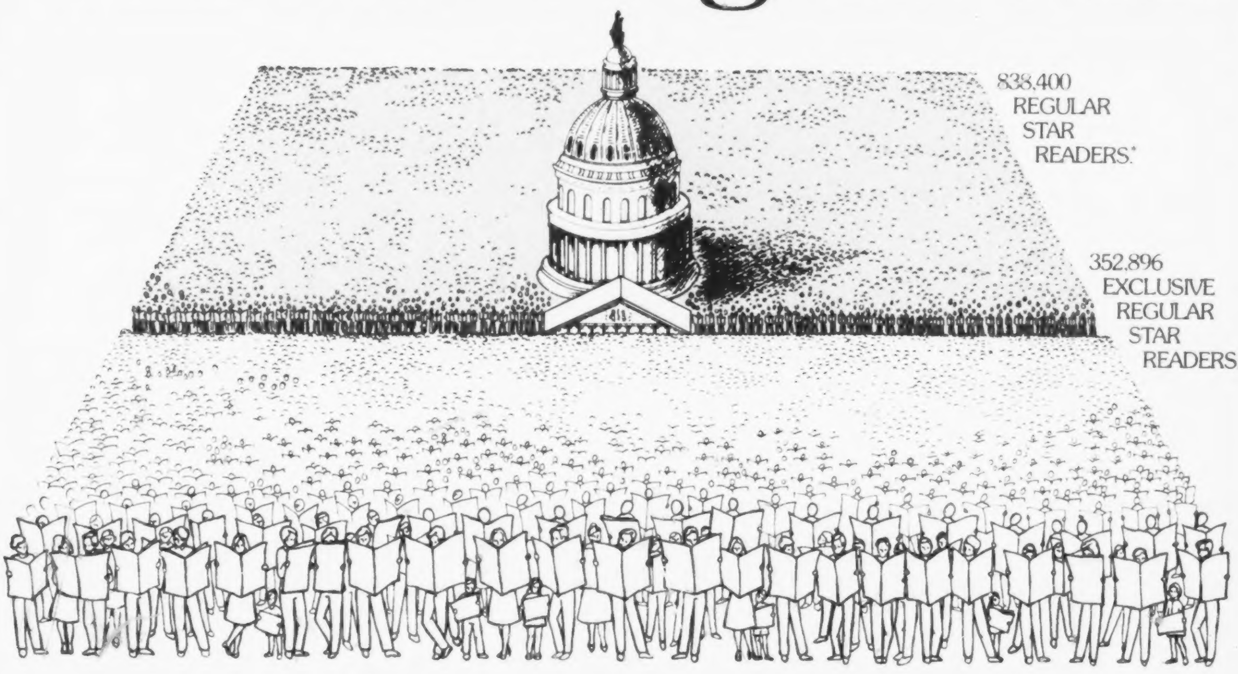
You can't capitalize on Washington, D.C. unless you buy The Washington Star.



Add The Star to your buy and add 350,000 exclusive readers.

Washington, D.C. It's the biggest newspaper reading market in the country. And it's definitely a two-paper town.

So, if you don't advertise in both Capital newspapers, you're missing out on some pretty big numbers.

Because only 22% of this two-paper town reads both The Washington Star and The Other Paper. So, adding The Star adds another 350,000+ consumers to your buy. And that's 350,000+ prospective buyers for your products.

If you're going by the numbers, buy all the numbers.

Call the National Advertising Manager at The Washington Star—Bob Booth at (202) 484-4641.

He'll help you make the necessary Capital improvements in your media plans.

"BULLSEYE"

We are the target you are shooting for.

Discover the golden markets of Florida.
Down the middle of the State of Florida lies an eight-county contiguous market group consisting of six New York Times daily newspapers. These papers influence the buying decisions of 156,000 households, or 65% of the households in this fast-growing area.
When comparing the demographics of this untouched golden market area with the major markets in Florida using Sales Marketing & Management's 1980 Survey of Buying Power, you will find rankings within the top three or four in the state.
These golden market papers are available to you through one insertion order, one bill arrangement to buy these six papers as easy as buying one of the major market products. A national contract is available to make this buy even more attractive.
Call (813)687-7883 for more details on this fast growing area, or contact your nearest Branham Newspaper Sales Representative of Florida or Publisher's Representative of Florida.

Survey of Buying Power, 1980
Effective Buying Income $4,255,204,000

The Southeast's Fastest Growing Major Metro Market!

☆THE TAMPA BAY MARKET...
is comprised of Hillsborough, Pasco and Pinellas Counties, the heart of Florida's Gulf Coast.

- Tampa Bay is the fastest growing metro market in Florida!
- Tampa Bay is the fastest growing metro market in the Southeast . . . ahead of Miami and Atlanta!
- Tampa Bay is the fourth fastest growing major metro market in the U.S. . . . behind Phoenix, Houston and San Diego!

Tampa Bay is a great Test Market — a real cross section of America because its citizens have been attracted by the magnetism of this dynamic market from all over the U.S.
